ACRPC Update

ACRPC Welcomes New GIS Planner, Hannah Andrew

Hannah joins the ACRPC after most recently working for a ranch in Southern Colorado as a forester. Prior to that, Hannah received her Juris Doctor and Master of Forestry degrees from Vermont Law School and Yale University. She first became interested in GIS while working as an ecological researcher for the Audubon Society. Since then, she has continued to incorporate GIS tools into a wide range of projects across environmental law, forestry, water quality, climate change, and community decision making. She is excited to meet and support the needs of all the stakeholders in the Region.

September is Preparedness Month!

In addition to building a Kit and making a Plan, there are many other things YOUR MUNICIPALITY can do- First, appoint an Emergency Management Director or Coordinator (if you don't already have one). Second, participate in the Regional Emergency Management Committee! Take a look at your Local Hazard Mitigation Plan and see if it needs to be updated, or has identified projects that can be implemented. And finally, this is a great time to fund some of the projects your community listed as priorities! There are several upcoming grants, including:

- Flood Resilient Communities Fund
- Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities
- Flood Mitigation Assistance
- Hazard Mitigation Grant Program
- State Homeland Security Grant Program

For more information, see the detailed information later in this newsletter, or contact Andrew L'Roe, ACRPC Emergency Management Planner (alroe@acrpc.org, 802-388-3141 x3)

Announcements

Thank you Field Days Volunteers!

In August, the ACRPC Energy Committee ran a booth during Addison County Fair and Field Days. We hosted several energy and climate related organizations including Green Saving Smart of CVOEO, the Climate Economy Action Center of Addison County, and Efficiency Vermont. Committee members and representatives spoke to over 250 visitors of the fair to answer questions about how they can become more efficient in their home, participate in local energy initiatives, and take advantage of the rebates and programs available to them. If you or your community would like to get involved and learn more about energy saving opportunities, contact our energy planner, Maddison Shropshire mshropshire@acrpc.org.

2022 Early Childhood Family Needs Assessment Survey

The Building Bright Futures' Families and Communities Committee has officially launched their 2022 Early Childhood Family Needs Assessment! This anonymous survey is open and we are asking Vermonters who are the primary caretakers for children under 9 years old to complete it. If you are the primary caretaker of a young child, please complete the survey now!

Efficiency VT Kicks off Button Up Weatherization Campaign

Last week, Efficiency VT officially kicked off the 2022 Button-up Season, asking communities to help them educate residents on the importance of weatherization and the opportunities to save on the change. You can watch a recording of the webinar and access the presentation slides here. Interested in being a Button Up community? Sign up here! For more information contact ACRPC's Energy Planner, Maddison Shropshire mshropshire@acrpc.org

Help Conduct a Home Heating Survey

The Addison County Climate Economy Action Center is helping Middlebury College's Sustainability Solutions Lab survey local residents about their thoughts on home heating in order to understand what it takes for households to reduce energy consumption and switch away from fossil fuels. The project needs volunteers to help in September and October. The time commitment would be two full days.

Participate in the Vermont Extreme Heat Survey and Enter to Win!

The UVM TRC invites you to participate in a brief survey about how people in Vermont perceive and respond to extreme heat. The information you provide will help identify opportunities to reduce the health risks associated with extreme heat for all Vermonters. As a thank you, participants can enter to win a $50 Amazon gift card at the end of the survey. Click this link to participate!

Governor Awards Addison County Towns Funds for Community Development

Governor PhilScott and the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) announced awards of over $2 million in Downtown Transportation Fund (DTF) grants to support 15 projects in Designated Downtowns and eligible Designated Village Centers. Two awards were granted in Addison County:

- Town of Bristol, Basin Street Streetscape Improvements; $200,000 Basin Street improvements include the repair of the retaining walls and reconstruction of the streetscape and storm drain system along Main Street. The repairs will reduce erosion and improve water quality. Approximately 170 feet of sidewalk and 300 feet of guardrail will also be replaced to improve pedestrian access and safety.
- City of Vergennes, Downtown and Basin Wayfinding Signage Installation; $79,760 Grant funding will implement a new wayfinding plan, a key recommendation in the Downtown-Basin Master Plan. The new signage will help visitors to navigate the downtown and basin areas while marketing the unique identity of Vergennes.

Hear From CVOEO's New Assistant Director for Addison Co.

The Full Stop ...

My name is Mark Demers. I began my work as the Associate Director of Addison Community Action on July 25. On my early morning commute to work one day I joined other groggy drivers making their way South on Route 7. We were navigating the maze of traffic lights and, perhaps because we hadn't finished that first cup of coffee, it was close to three minutes before I realized I had been stopped at a red light for an unusually long time. Other drivers around me were beginning to wake up to the fact that we should have had a green light before now. Some were slowly inching forward in hopeful anticipation of a light change.

How much “hold” does a red light have on us? And what do you do if it never turns green?

Later that day I encountered another dilemma. A client called: “My electricity is shut off!” It was a full stop. There was no inching forward in this situation.

When the power outage is the result of a storm we usually expect the inconvenience to last no more than a couple hours. We take out candles, light the fireplace and munch on peanut butter sandwiches. But when you can’t pay the bill it’s a different story. In my first month on this job we have had several calls to Addison Community Action from people in this situation – as potentially dangerous as it is frustrating.

Back to the red light - After five minutes it was obvious the light wasn’t going to change any time soon. Cautiously, watching for oncoming traffic turning into the intersection, each car made its way through the intersection one at a time, inching slowly, lawbreakers all!

At Addison Community Action we work with clients who face a “full stop” – whether it is a lack of food, the need for fuel assistance, or help with signing up for some badly needed service. We walk with people as they inch forward toward a more realistic budget, a warmer home or signing on to the Vermont Emergency Rental Assistance Program (VERAP). Some of the “red lights” we encounter in life are of our own making; others are a matter of circumstance. We help people deal with issues they can control and to navigate the situations they can’t. We call it “Bridging Gaps – Building Futures”.

You can help us by learning what Addison Community Action and CVOEO have to offer. From Weatherization services to our Financial Futures program, from our food shelf to housing advocacy, tax preparation and fuel assistance, I am happy to tell you about it. It can be a five-minute phone conversation, or a 15 minute presentation at one of your meetings. Would you consider becoming a VITA Volunteer to assist with tax preparation? Contact me at mdemers@cvoeo.org or call me – 802-388-2285.

I look forward to learning from and working with my colleagues here and with partner agencies, town governments and local businesses and faith communities throughout the county. Helping people who are stopped and stuck to get moving again is a noble goal; with your support we turn that noble goal into a working plan!

My best to you.
Mark

Grants and Funding

Transportation

VTrans Municipal Highway and Stormwater Mitigation Grant

In a commitment to improving the quality of state waters and providing funding to municipalities to assist in their efforts, the Vermont Agency of Transportation (VTrans) is pleased to announce the municipal highway and stormwater mitigation funding opportunity. The grants are currently open with applications due October 7th. These funds are good for large scale projects (up-scaling culverts, salt sheds) or scoping studies to develop budgets for such projects. They're federal funds so projects take on average five years to develop. If your community would like help in developing an application, or if you'd like to discuss a potential project, please get in touch with our Transportation Planner, Mike Winslow mwinslow@acrpc.org

Community Change Grants

Applications for Community Change Grants open in the fall and are awarded for the full calendar year following. The number of grants awarded varies each year, depending on available funds. The Community Change Grants program supports the growing network of advocates, organizations, and agencies working to advance walkability. Grants are awarded to innovative, engaging, and inclusive programs and projects that create change and opportunity for walking and movement at the community level.

Energy Efficiency and Historic Preservation Retreat October 11-12, 2022

Are you struggling to understand how best to weatherize your historic building? Retrofitting historic properties to improve energy efficiency, reduce heating costs and keep historic features intact is possible! Historic buildings were designed to be efficient and take advantage of the resources available at the time of construction - sunlight, airflow, water. This retreat will explore how best to approach energy retrofits to maximize the building's inherent efficiencies and will share best practices that generally will not impact the historic character of your building.

Equity

VLCT Announces New Equity Resources for Municipalities

The VLCT Municipal Equity Toolkit is a ten-part online resource that covers everything from creating a municipal equity committee to building a framework and action plan to listing equity-related books, podcasts, and videos. It is free and available to all VLCT members and the public at vlct.org/JDEIB-resources. VLCT's equity consultants, Nikki Fuller Esq-SHRM-SCP of Workplace Matters and Dr. Wanda Heading Grant, helped create the toolkit in collaboration with the VLCT Equity committee and with the support of a grant from the Vermont Community Foundation. The toolkit includes resources for both internally focused equity efforts (ensuring a community is a model employer) and external equity resources (ensuring the community itself is a welcoming place to all). More information and resources on equity can also be found through the State of Vermont Office of Racial Equity.

Natural Resources

The Vermont Fish & Wildlife Department Community Wildlife Program

The Vermont Fish & Wildlife Department Community Wildlife Program is proud to announce the schedule for our Fall educational series of webinars and training. This year we have five new topics planned and will be offering several sessions of each. Look at our schedule and register here: <https://anr.vermont.gov/content/trainings>.

Trainings: In addition to our webinar series, we're also offering two trainings online this fall, Environmental Leadership Training (ELT) Unit 1; From Science to Planning and ELT Unit 2; From Planning to Action. We will be diving into the intricacies of natural resource planning through exciting hands-on activities, role playing, and engaging presentations all aimed at helping you become a leader in your community. Each training involves attending three live sessions (held online) and a bit of homework between sessions to explore additional tools. We will also engage with a few web tools (like BioFinder) to expand your technical skills for planning within your community. See Trainings here: <https://anr.vermont.gov/content/trainings#Trainings> to learn more.
